"I have been In Line's broker for over 18 years and I have never known of any situation that would give rise to an action or claim. In fact, In Line has not had a General Liability claim or a claim made against them on their surety bond in the 15 years I have been their broker. Their "Best Business Practices" are second to none. "I wanted to complement several In Line employees, Dan Mitchell, Jon Mersman and Kurt McLaughlin. All three have been incredibly responsive to our needs through the construction process. Even when bombarded with numerous requests in one day, these guys were always polite and professional. The quality of their work was excellent, I would certainly recommend them to anyone engaged in a similar project."
